

End of Curriculum™ Exam Development Process

The quality of PAEA's End of Curriculum exam is supported by the rigor of the exam development process. This is the journey of the first scored exam questions, leading to the first administration:

63 PA Educators built, wrote, and reviewed the foundational materials and content of the exam.

Representing

53 Programs from every region of the U.S., including leaders at every level, providing different perspectives.

38 Programs from every region of the U.S. helped us collect baseline statistics from real students.

80 Total programs have participated in one or more ways to launch the first version.
